1208 Wimbleson Drive, Raleigh, NC 27609

35.85246468819287, -78.6548714913602

One's imagination come to life... welcome to 1208 Wimbleson, a home that redefines modern living while honoring the natural beauty present in much desired North Hills. Designed and developed by AIA award-winning architect, Jolie Frazier Mollison, with a deep appreciation for the area's mid-century charm, this is the first modernist spec home to grace the community in years. Tucked among the trees, this home offers a rare combination of contemporary design and thoughtful preservation. Expansive windows and clean lines bring in abundant natural light and create seamless connections to the surrounding greenery. It's a home that feels both strikingly modern and deeply rooted in its environment. Unlike anything else in the area, this home stands out with its minimalist aesthetic and open layout boasting, further elusive, 6 bedrooms and a finished basement. Every space has been crafted to enhance daily life while celebrating the outdoors, from the soaring ceilings to purposeful placement. This is your opportunity to live in a space that is as innovative as it is inviting, successfully delivering on a vision to create a home that respects the natural environment while offering a forward-thinking option for those seeking something distinctive.
