601 Honey Lane isn't just a home; it's a statement piece by the renowned Raleigh architect Nick Hammer nestled at the end of a serene cul-de-sac in Historic Oakwood, Raleigh and a stroll to the Person Street Area (Crawford, Standard, Two Roosters, etc.), Brookside Plaza (Optimist, Brookside Bodega), Oakwood Park, and the rest of Downtown Raleigh. This modern marvel, a contender for the 2016 Matsumoto Prize, stands out among its historic neighbors not just for its location, but for its bold design and quiet demeanor. With a facade that whispers 'unique' through its fiber cement siding accented with cedar and metal, this house dares you to discover what lies within. Step inside to find an expansive 2700+ sq ft of living space where 10-foot ceilings and vast windows don't just invite light -- they bathe every corner of the open-concept in it. The kitchen offers space to create and is adorned with a stainless Jenn-Air fridge, a gas range w/ hood and custom cabinets that stretch to the ceiling. The kitchen isn't just a kitchen; it's a culinary arena with a non-repeating custom 9' granite island so beautiful, even your takeout will look gourmet. Live in an art lover's dream, with angles that challenge the mundane, a stained glass window that catches the eye, and spaces that serve as a functional gallery for your life. With 3 bedrooms, 2.5 baths, a pocket office and bonus space that could flex into an office or a nook for your latest whims, boredom is a concept this house simply doesn't entertain. The primary bedroom has gorgeous views, a walk-in closet and a remodeled bathroom (2024) with soaking tub and walk-in shower. Outside, the lot stretches past a quiet stream overlooked by an expansive front deck and a manicured garden with smart architectural lighting. Enjoy private street parking and a Level 2 EV charger in the driveway. The garage? It's not just for parking; it's a workshop, storage haven, and possibly your new favorite hangout spot. 601 Honey Lane: Where modern meets historic, privacy meets convenience, and architecture meets art. Come for the design, stay for the location.
